I spent a lot of time making sure the content on the site is high-quality and updated frequently. We have affiliate programs, but I've also launched contests so you can win free prizes. I'm planning on writing some more blog posts to cover some of the less popular topics. There's also a community of creators on the site (both from my own content and the crowd). Each of the articles on Startup Guide.co has a 'read now' button at the top. When you click it, you'll be redirected to an open tab which displays the open thread which includes the content you just read.
