.Q: "npm test" does not catch gulp.watch error I am using gulp to watch for changes and rerun tests when they occur: gulp.watch(["resources/.js", "tests/.js"], function (done) { runTests(done); }); Problem is that if tests fail and I try to rerun tests, the test will look like it passed because tests are only run once (in beforeAll in test.js) function runTests(done) { console.log('running tests'); console.log(self.context.getTest().status); if(self.context.getTest().status=="passed" || self.context.getTest().status=="failed") { console.log("It will run again"); setTimeout(function () { runTests(done) }, 5000); } else { done(); } } The console output is: :gulp:resources/.js:watch running tests failed It will run again :gulp:tests/.js:watch running tests passed :gulp:tests/.js:watch running tests passed :gulp:tests/.js:watch running tests passed :gulp:tests/*.js:watch running tests passed I have to run :gulp test --force 6d1f23a050
