Al-Shabab during the afternoon of March 22 released a new propaganda video, which shows the next stage of a campaign by the armed group to control 60% of Somalia. Al-Shabab terrorists under the control of "the self-appointed government" in the country have renamed the capital city Mogadishu "New Mogadishu". The above, the group says, is a "preparation for the [group's] anticipated victory". The group is preoccupied by the recent success of the Somali army in Hadalley district, in Biyare district, in Buurhum district, in Qalderashad, in Xasha Kudowi, and at Gedo, according to the propaganda video. "This war will continue until we are victorious, until we get rid of that gang of ruse and liars, and until we complete the dream of establishing the Islamic state in Somalia," the narrator of the footage says. "In the coming days, we will rule Somalia, we will soon return to our former days, and remind the Shabab of the days [in which] they had been humiliated, and they were hurt by them. This is the truth," the Islamist group says. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a service operating method, service operating system, and information processing system, and particularly relates to a service operating method, service operating system, and information processing system that, in the case where parts of the service are updated, automatically load the latest version of the service. Description of the Related Art In conventional remote control systems, there is a device that is connected to a common carrier network, and the main function is to execute image processing on the received image data and transmit the image data to the user's terminal. In this type of remote control device, there are cases where the remote control device is an image processing function device which is executed by a service operating system. In the case of the conventional remote control system, no configuration is performed to guarantee the reliability of the service operating system that is executing the remote control device. In particular, if the service operating system of the remote control device were to crash and not properly return to the next process, the user's terminal would not be able to receive the image data transmitted from the remote control device. 5ec8ef588b
